Mike Hagan was chosen as Civitan Medalist by the members of his senior class and the school faculty.

Mike has participated in many campus activities. Besides holding the position of president of the Senior Class, he is president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and a committee chairman in the Student Council.

Along with his other activities, Mike is an avid sports fan. Being a very capable member of the MHS football squad, Mike was selected as an "All-City Tackle" during his junior and senior years. He also served as captain of the team his senior year.

Mike's sincerity and the shy smile that lights up his face whenever he meets anyone at school combine to make him popular with members of both sexes. His quiet, good manners coupled with his wonderful personality and his sense of responsibility make him popular with the entire student body.

With the legacy he creates, Mike is a perfect Civitan Medalist.

BECKY HEROD

Vivacious and petite Becky Herod has been a definite asset to Madison High. She was selected as DAR Medalist by the entire senior class and members of the faculty.

Becky represents citizenship and leadership in every way. She is an active member of the GAA and serves as secretary of the Senior Class. For six years Becky has been a member of the Rosette basketball squad and for two years she was chosen by her teammates as captain. Serving her school and community in every phase, Becky is an active participant in her church and student council.

Becky's beauty is widely recognized as is shown by the many honors she has won. She was selected as Senior Wilhilly Attendant, and this year the football team chose her to reign as Homecoming Queen. As a final tribute to the Best Looking Girl in the senior class, the entire student body voted for Becky to represent MHS at Miss Madison.

Her wonderful personality, combined with her sense of duty to others, her grace and charm, makes Becky an unforgettable person. Nowhere could a more versatile and well-qualified girl be found to be DAR Medalist.

Becky Penner, Cheryl Johnson, Barbara Dunlap, and Cathy Fisher planning for the year.

When the first days of autumn made their appearance, so did the plans for the RAM 1967. September and planning for the layout turned quickly into October and making the first color photo to appear in the RAM. November brought a successful sales campaign highlighted by a drawing for a transistor radio. When December made its appearance, class representatives frantically sorted pictures before leaving for Christmas vacation. During January, the most frequent scene was Joel Crowell with his camera or a fresh batch of photos on his way to find Barbara and more pictures to be made. With the advent of February and the deadline, editors, their assistants, and typists practically lived in the workshop writing and typing copy and cropping photos. Once the deadline was met, the months of March, April, and May were months of waiting, waiting, waiting for THAT DAY when everyone would see the colors and design chosen in secrecy, and be reminded of those never-to-be forgotten events of Madison in 1967.

Mrs. Miller, Mr. Walters, and Mrs. Hubbard consult on final plans for the RAM.

DEBBIE REED
Editor-in-Chief

The year 1966-1967 has been one of progress for the RAM PAGE. Beginning in September, the paper advanced to a twelve-page monthly in November and added color for the special Christmas edition.

Students were greeted with a sixteen page packed with news, views, features, and pictures when they returned after the holidays to greet the New Year.

The January issue marked more than one first for the RAM PAGE. Safety Week was extended to include MHS's three sister schools, Linton, Strawberry, and East, in an effort to block traffic fatalities and accidents on Gallatin Road. The staff went all out in their campaigning. Car stickers were designed, devotions planned, and a special assembly set up to wind up the week's activities.

The RAM PAGE staffers began spacing issues in after January in order to make room for the two all-important papers of the year: the Junior and senior editions.

February featured a scoop on the Miss Madison election, March got spring off to a roaring start, April led to May, and May to the end of highly successful and most satisfactory year for the MHS RAM PAGE.

Linda Gilliland presents an idea for Santa Martin Week.

Providing improvement, dedication, and betterment to Madison High School, the Student Council is an organization in which close contact and relationships are exerted between the students and faculty. The general welfare of the student body is the main objective of the council and consistent concern and proposals are aimed toward this cause.

Committees within the council are established to contribute to the analysis of certain areas of school life and suggest improvements when needed. Various school functions are planned and scheduled by the student council officers who work with the school officials and leaders.

"Active" is a very descriptive adjective of the Madison High School Student Council. Functions sponsored by the council are enjoyable, educational, and meaningful. A variety of activities such as assemblies, socials, welfare collections, and various campaigns are presented throughout the entire school year.

Serving as an active member of the Nashville Inter-High, the Madison High School Student Council hosted a March meeting of this organization at which the vice-mayor of Nashville spoke.

Student needs, suggestions, and affairs are daily met, heard, and discussed by the Student Council, and its cause is a vital characteristic of close relationships.

The symbol of success during one's high school career is membership in the National Honor Society. As its name indicates, NHS is a nationally recognized organization, no matter where alumni go after graduation, they will receive recognition for their membership. Students are admitted on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. A 2.5 average for the three semesters prior to their admission is the scholastic basis for membership; the faculty approves their qualities in the areas of integrity and service. Although the National Honor Society is primarily an honorary organization which recognizes high achievement, the Madison Chapter renders a valuable service to the student body. The NHS sponsors a student tutoring program to serve those pupils requiring help in subject areas they find difficult.

The National Forensic League stresses individual speaking ability, allows participation in interschool competition, and recognizes achievement by granting membership and awarding the four degrees of Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction. These degrees are based on points earned in competition with students from other schools. In competition this year, Madison's Forensic Chapter has won many awards and trophies in tournaments throughout Nashville, Kentucky, Georgia, and Washington, D. C.

In June, 1967, the national convention of the NFL will meet in Nashville at David Lipscomb College, and the Madison Chapter will play a major role in having the many delegates from across the United States.

The National Thespians Society, an honorary organization dedicated to the performing arts, is now in its third year at Madison. Drama, comedy, and tragedy are given equal emphasis as individual endeavors to become a troupe member is good standing.

The Thespians Society boasts its own magazine and seven hundred and twenty affiliated chapters throughout the United States and in Europe. Local organizations are governed by troupe officers chosen by popular election.

During the 1966-67 school year, troupe No. 2673 produced and presented two plays: "Where the Cross is Made" by Eugene O'Neill and Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple." These plays were entered in competition with those given by other schools, and in each instance Madison was proud of the high achievements of its Thespians troupe.

Donelson Win Evades Rams

James Crawford and John Sloan apply their talents in a crucial tackle on the Donelson field.

TACKLES: Kneeling: Steve Beard, Darryl Ferguson, Darryl Ferguson; Standing: Darryl Ferguson, Darryl Ferguson.

Rapidly paced action on the Donelson field reaped fine returns for the Rams. Although Madison suffered a loss, it was without question the Rams' best performance of the season.

Inspired by last year's upset victory over Donelson, Reed Hawkins smashed through the Don defense for an early 7-0 lead. The excellent play of John Sloan and Wade Shell enabled Madison to regain its margin until the second quarter when Donelson managed to score its second touchdown.

As third quarter play ended, the Rams were trailing by only two points, with more than 100 yards rushing added to their record. Suddenly, with five minutes of play remaining, a Donelson offensive move yielded a TD.

Attempting to rally, quarterback Steve Moore fired a 23 yard touchdown pass to end Mike McDonald.

As the buzzer sounded, Madison fans left the field disappointed at the 23-20 score, but thoroughly satisfied with the responsive play of the Rams.

Rams Romp Over Burros

Homecoming was highlighted by Ronnie Christian's brilliantly executed dive through the Burro defense.

Madison's homecoming classic pitted the mighty Rams against the Burros of Hillbirt, rated the state's number one defensive team. Amidst the glittering ceremonial lights, the Burros, expecting a win, were stunned as the Big Orange carried a 21-27 victory over their opponents.

Very early in the game fullback Ronnie Christian highlighted the spirit of Madison with a rumbled across the goal line for Madison's first touchdown. By the second quarter, the Rams had tallied a substantial margin with two touchdowns and two extra points.

In the last ten minutes, stymied by every effort, the Burros finally scored. As the buzzer sounded the game's close, the Rams, led by Ronnie Christian, had totaled 233 yards rushing.

Rams Penetrate Panther Defense

The well-timed movement of Robert Morrison brings about his escape from the Compton competitors as he crosses the goal line for a Madison TD.

Rams Tromp Trojans

Ramie Christian runs the Frodo defense for another TD in Madison's 21-4 triumph.

Narrowly ripping Compton High School with a 7-6 win, Madison emerged victorious in one of its closest games of the year.

The Panthers, winning the toss, started to execute the opening kickoff, which they fumbled on their own nine yard line. Madison, quickly recovering the ball, strengthened its drive for the goal line. After six plays, a sudden charge made by Robert Morrison worked up a touchdown for the Rams. Skillfully added was the game's deciding extra point by kicking specialist Mike McDonald.

Outstanding Madison defense withstood every attack made by the Panthers. Heavy rushing crashed no less than three goal line attempts until the last quarter, when a blocked punt enabled a touchdown setup.

1966: Ray Jones, Larry Stevens, Mike McDonald

The Goodlettsville defense crumbled under the heavy pressure of the Madison Rams, yielding a 25-6 victory over the Trojans. With a series of misfortunes troubling the Rams, this was the first game in which the Madison team actually scored.

In very successful offensive plays, Ramie Christian charged across the goal line for the first and last of four Madison touchdowns. The remaining two were to the credit of Reed Hawkins and [redacted] who'll excite the crowd with a 53-yard punt.

The fury of the game's play was also revealed in the game statistics. The Rams totaled a remarkable 304 yards rushing as well as 18 first downs.

Madison Grapples With Madison

Steve Estep and [redacted] responsible for a fumble during game play. Recovery yielded a Ron Red Run.

The Rams awarded a crushing blow to the Green Wave of Gallatin with a 21-7 win, enabling Madison to complete its 12th successful season of play with a 6-3-1 record.

Although heavily outweighed by their Gallatin opponents, the Rams offered consistent play, recording a touchdown and extra point in all but the game's third quarter.

First to fight the score board was Ronnie Christian on a one yard plunge through the Green Wave defensive line. [redacted] followed suit in the game's second quarter when he snagged a pass for 23 yards by quarterback, Steve Estep.

By the second half, Gallatin was trailing 14 points behind Madison. Reed Hawkins widened the gap for the Rams when he jaunted 70 yards to achieve the last touchdown of the evening and in a fine evening's work marked up 101 yards in eight carries of the ball.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

COACH COLLIER

Tracked by a series of misfortunes the Rams suffered some disappointing setbacks early in the season. Although the Madison club was victorious in but 6 of 20 games played, the Rams hosted their opponents in the most sportsmanlike manner. In addition, the avid support of regular fans patterned a season of spirit to rival that of any other team in the NL.

Once the problems of early season play had been corrected, however, Madison executed brilliant offense which highlighted the latter games of the season. Among the Rams conquests were victories over both Donelson and DuPont—troubled by obvious ex deficits against for Madison's opponents. High-scoring for these two games were co-captains Steve Moore and Sonny Wolfe with a combined total of points well above the seasonal average.

Team members Mike Barn, [redacted] Gary Forsythe, Ricky McDonald, and Steve Stutz added a bolstering effort to team play, both at home and on the road.

Madison's Ramettes, sporting new orange and white uniforms, excited spectators with their enthusiasm and spirit. Miss Corie Haran, the new varsity coach, greatly influenced the girls with her undimmed talent and devotion. Although winning only 7 games, the lady Rams and their coach showed the effort of a truly determined squad.

Goodlettsville, Bellevue, and Two Rivers edged the Ramettes by margins of less than 3 points at the opening of the season. Seeking revenge for an earlier loss, the team upset Two Rivers by a score of 63 to 56. On a last period field goal, Madison downed DuPont 50 to 48. In addition, the squads of Jettie Hale and Goodlettsville fell victims to the Ramettes in their second meeting on the court.

The efforts offered by Jane Barron, Fudette Lindley, Cindy Potter, Betty Harad, Dione Currier, and Corie Haran are of particular note in evaluating the past season of play.

Seniors Bid Farewell To Alma Mater

For the Seniors, the curtain is finally being drawn to a close. They have reached the almost rung on their scholastic ladder to success. Long to be remembered are the deadlines on the RAM and the RAM PAGE, those last minute touchdowns, the hours of fun and hard work spent on the spaghetti supper and the prom, college board and ACT tests, the busload of "Beat Upton Week" and, last, but by no means least, final exams.

The duties of the Senior Class have been many. Under the supervision of the faculty, they have headed the Student Council, held positions of leadership in honor organizations, and helped in the office.

The tired looks gained from four years of work are fading into a smile, a smile of achievement. The long awaited moment soon arrives. Anticipation, eagerness, relief, and a little regret are mirrored in the faces of those figures who don the traditional caps and gowns of graduation. Stepping forward to receive those longed-for diplomas, one may falter, for this is no ordinary step. Knowing not what the future holds but having set their standards, goals, and ideals, they look ahead with pride to whatever life has in store. And so they leave Madison with a broad smile, and a tear, knowing that they have been a part of MHS and that MHS will always be a part of them.

Juniors Looking Forward To Final Step

The Junior Class found itself on the threshold of a new and different world when it returned to school in the fall. Gone were the lark-and-daisy days of the lower classes—the giddiness and the gaiety. The days of responsibility, determination of goals, and independent thinking made their appearance. The school with its buildings and its faculty was seen with a deeper understanding of what education really means. Friendships became more valued; life became more thoughtful.

With all this new awareness came responsibilities. Work and concentration were called for in planning the year, electing class officers, taking tests for college preparation, and preparing for the "future." The responsibilities were many, but the rewards of being a vital part of a group have far exceeded the work. A successful dance, an active Student Council campaign, a class ring were all rewards dear to the Juniors' hearts.

With only one rung left on the ladder of learning, the Juniors now anticipate the coming year as they watch old friends graduate and realize how soon they, too, will be Seniors.

Sophomores Become Veteran Students

Surviving the first years of high school, the class of '69 has acquired an air of experience at MHS. Veterans that they are, they have the privilege of sitting downstairs at pep meetings and assemblies and enjoying the new friends made from the "Band". A year older, a year wiser, possibly a year more foolish, the Sophomores have reached the halfway mark of high school. They can now look back with joy at the memories shared during those first years and look ahead with anticipation to the future.

Freshmen Face New Beginning

For freshmen, the year of 1967 has been a bewildering year yet one that has brought moments of fun, tribulation, and the foundation for happy memories. The freshman year can be either a happy realization or a hardship—yet one must be a "lucky freshman" before he can exceed the ladder of learning. Chugging classes at such fast, class elections, rubbing it hard down a crowded hall—all have been necessary hardships for Freshmen; but these are the very memories which each will cherish in later years.

Distinction, possessing, she performs the duties of teacher and exemplar with quiet and efficient grace. At first glance, one may not be aware of the many-faceted personality she possesses, but those who have had the privilege of working with her know the great value of her association.

Some will remember her as a teacher whose life-long love of learning to think for with perfection that she enforced those around her with the same ability.

Others will remember her as a friend who guided, inspired, and demanded the best efforts they had. They know that she, too, would devote herself, her time, and her energy to any task, never asking more than she was willing to give.

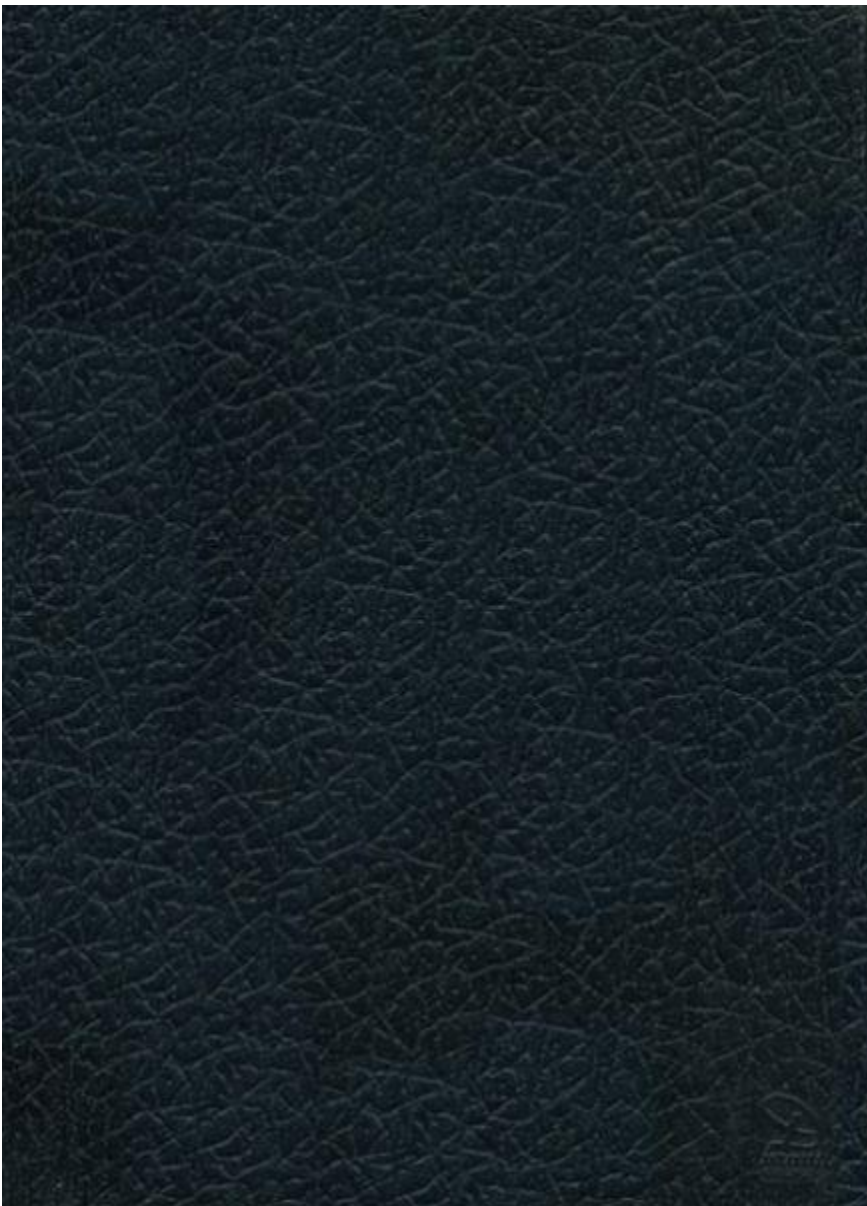

All will remember the personal dedication, the willingness and ability to achieve, the well-considered words. They will remember fondly and gratefully Mrs. Wade C. Wilson, invaluable friend and excellent teacher.

For these endearing qualities and for her excellent year-books, Madison High students and the BAH Staff of 1966-67 honor her.
